Welcome to Dijon métropole

Town of culture, history and modernity

You will be taken aback by the city of the Dukes of Burgundy!

Dijon is a fascinating blend of culture, art, gastronomy, wine, tradition and modernity, and the city has so many surprises up its sleeve.

Dijon is a modestly sized city and the ideal place to explore with its car-free historic centre and outstanding built heritage which includes churches and private town mansions with glazed tiles. There are over 3,000 buildings from all periods in history here.

The city of Dijon offers a unique discovery experience thanks to its legendary Fine Arts Museum (one of the richest and oldest in France) which is housed in the grandiose setting of the Palace of the Dukes and States of Burgundy.

Dijon is a superb city to be in, full of great food and drink. The Cité Internationale de la Gastronomie et du Vin celebrates the French art of fine dining and is listed as intangible world heritage by UNESCO. This is a wonderful place to get together, enjoy gourmet experiences and share ideas about the source of French identity itself and what makes the country so well-known across the globe.

Set off from Dijon to explore the area as you wish: the parks and gardens, the valleys and vineyards, or the famous Route des Grands Crus de Bourgogne (Route of the Great Burgundy Wines). You can also choose to take a leisurely stroll along the Burgundy Canal either on foot or by bike.

Dijon is a modern tourist city which is fiercely proud of its heritage and which has been redesigned to take its natural setting and the environment into account.

This tourist guide is an invitation for you to explore, with ideas for experiences with family or friends, in the city or the surrounding countryside.

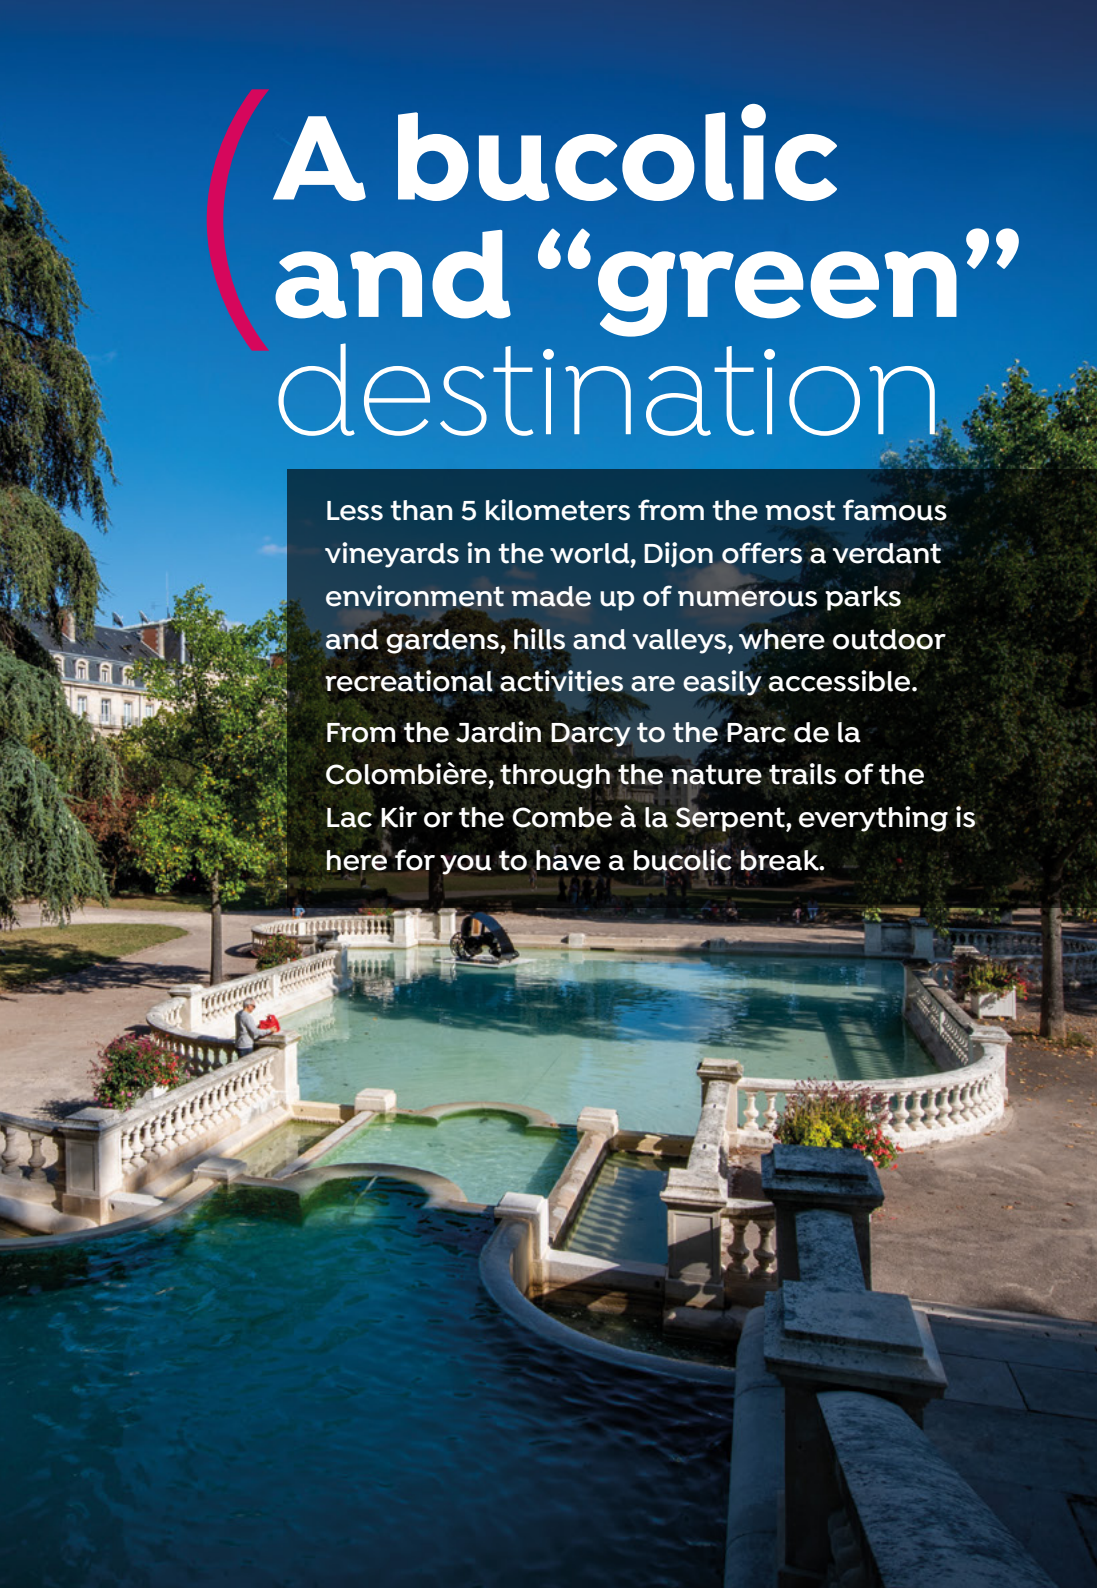

Have a great stay in Dijon!

Sladana Zivkovic

Adjointe au Maire de Dijon

Déléguée au Tourisme et aux Congrès.

Présidente de Dijon Bourgogne Tourisme & Congrès

A bucolic and “green” destination

Less than 5 kilometers from the most famous vineyards in the world, Dijon offers a verdant environment made up of numerous parks and gardens, hills and valleys, where outdoor recreational activities are easily accessible.

From the Jardin Darcy to the Parc de la Colombière, through the nature trails of the Lac Kir or the Combe à la Serpent, everything is here for you to have a bucolic break.

Close to the historical center, walking, biking or solex rides offer an escape to the bucolic landscapes of the Burgundy canal and Ouche or in the surrounding vineyards.

A greenway allows you to discover the Burgundy canal, linking the Seine to the Saône and the Rhône over 242 kilometers and crossing the metropolis.

Nearly 40 hiking itineraries crisscross the territory of the Dijon metropolis. From the plains to the wine-growing «climats», from the Burgundy Canal to the limestone cliffs, from the city of the Dukes to Lake Kir, Dijon offers unique itineraries.

Gourmet destination

Dijon alone brings together all the ingredients for an exceptional epicurean stay. No wonder Dijon has been selected to be the gateway to the World Valley of Gastronomy: with its 6 Michelin-starred chefs, gastronomic or bistronomic restaurants and countless local specialties (Jambon Persille, gingerbread, snails, Cassis liqueur, gougères...), Dijon is a leader in gourmet food, eating welle and drinking.

As the gateway to the Grand Crus and the most prestigious wine appellations of Burgundy, Dijon is full of wine bars and tasting places. Want to discover a domain of Burgundy? Of course! Every day from the city center, half-day or full-day tours allow you to get acquainted with the wines of Burgundy and to taste the great names: Gevrey-Chambertin, Nuits-Saint-Georges, Vosne-Romanée, Marsannay-la-Côte, Morey-Saint-Denis...

This epicurean experience is now enhanced by the International City of Gastronomy and Wine, which opened on May 6th in the city center. A true ode to French gastronomy, unique in France and in Europe, this center offers more than 6,000 square meters of exhibitions and shops: creative «Master Class» workshops with prestigious chefs, immersive and entertaining exhibitions, tastings of great wines, a gastronomic village, restaurants and cinema... This is the very essence of the «Cité Internationale de la Gastronomie & du Vin»

CITÉ INTERNATIONALE DE LA GASTRONOMIE & DU VIN

A new landmark destination celebrating France's legendary lifestyle, the Cité Internationale Centre for Gastronomy and Wine aims to share and promote the values of the "Gastronomic meal of the French" and the "Climats, terroirs of Burgundy", which enjoy UNESCO World Heritage status.

CITÉ
INTERNATIONALE DE LA
GASTRONOMIE
& DU VIN

Setting the stage for daily encounters with local farmers and artisans, the Gastronomic Village is packed with 9 themed stores that each shine a light on France's outstanding expertise, showcasing cheese, charcuterie, meat, fish, seafood, vegetables, citrus fruit, bread, chocolate, pastries and tableware. It is also home to a bookshop that is gourmand by both name and nature.

A state-of-the-art cinema complex, the Ferrandi Paris school of culinary arts, a wine cellar with over 3,000 different wines from Burgundy and beyond... And many other activities to do in a unique place!

750 m of exhibitions will provide the keys to understanding the “Gastronomic meal of the French” as well as the pivotal role wine plays in this aspect of the country's cultural heritage. Visitors should set aside 3 hours to explore everything the pavilions have to offer, and those who wish can prolong their visit with a session in the Experiential Kitchen, a sociable drink in the Cave de la Cité wine cellar or even a wine tasting lesson with the École des Vins de Bourgogne run by the Bureau Interprofessionnel des Vins de Bourgogne (BIVB).

Cultural destination

Proud of its 97-hectare protected area, one of the largest in France, Dijon's city center is now recognized by UNESCO as a «property of universal value». It offers visitors a rare quality of discovery. Without cars, without olfactory, visual and sound pollution, the visit of the historic center offers the pleasure of strolling freely and leisurely.

Staying in Dijon means exploring the open-air museum offered by its historic center: the Antiques district, the Gothic churches and cathedral, and the Palace of the Dukes and States of Burgundy are all jewels that proudly stand in the heart of the Burgundian capital.

The numerous museums of the city (admission is free) reveal its priceless treasures, from the tombs of the Dukes of Burgundy at the Musée des Beaux-Arts to the collections of the greatest contemporary artists on display at the Consortium Museum.

From 18th-century mansions to half-timbered houses from the Middle Ages, Dijon, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, offers visitors an architectural panorama of the city's history from all periods. A thousands of anecdotes to hear during the fascinating visits in the company of expert tour guides of the destination (20 professional guides and 9 languages provided by the Tourist Office).

Dijon Bureau des Congrès

Your gateway to organising all your events in the Burgundy capital

5 reasons for choosing Dijon

1 A historic capital city, with a UNESCO World Heritage Site at its heart.

2 A gourmet food and wine capital, the starting point of the Route des Grands Crus and its famous Climats de Bourgogne, also a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

3 A major financial hub with a host of sectors of excellence, including agri-food, pharmaceuticals and healthcare, microtechnology and energy transition, along with research and higher education centres.

4 All the charms of a small and friendly town, where everything is within easy reach on foot or by tram.

5 The Bureau des Congrès (Convention Bureau) offers a comprehensive range of services from venue selection and hotel booking to team-building solutions and made-to-measure services to help you organise your event.
