

village center of Moulins- Engilbert

© OT. BLM

Path

© OT. BLM

The wood of Chaume

Moulins-Engilbert

2H30

9,5k

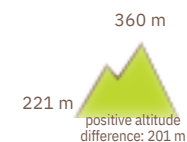

A walk through the flowery streets of Moulins-Engilbert, discovering the ruins of the old castle and its beautiful private houses.

location

Moulins- Engilbert, 16 km southwest of of Château-Chinon via the D 978 and D 37

Parking

place du Champ-de-Foire

TO DISCOVER ON THE WAY

- Moulins- Engilbert: Saint Jean- Baptiste church 16th century
- Commagny Priory 12th - 14th century
- Maison de l'Elevage et du Charolais, cattle market

TO DISCOVER IN THE REGION

- Moulins- Engilbert: remains of the old 14th century ramparts, ruins of the 13th century castle, a trail of trompe l'oeil frescoes, the 1st category rivers: the Garat and the Guignon
- Saint Honoré- les- Bains : Thermal establishment (earthenware and mosaic), Thermal Park, chapel of the Thermal Park (private but open), Hameau de la Montagne (castle and its pottery), Saint Loup Church.
- Villapourçon: Rangère dam, La Dragne waterfall
- Chatillon- en- Bazois: castle and tower, gardens classified as "remarkable gardens, Nivernais canal
- Saint- Léger- sous- Beuvray : BibRACTE and the Mont Beuvray

MARKING blue

- Tourist office : 03 73 21 03 00, others tours to download at : www.tourismebazoisloiremorvan.fr.

- Comité Départemental de la Randonnée Pédestre de la Nièvre : 03 86 61 87 75, nièvre@ffrandonnee.fr, https : //nièvre.ffrandonnee.fr.

© OT. BLM

Fresco
"Entrez dans la danse"

PR© The wood of Chaume

Fauna and flora

Charolais Breeding

The Charolais breed was introduced to the Morvan around 1850, ending several centuries of a cereal based economy. Originating from Saône-et-Loire, the Charolais breed quickly replaced the Morvan "red-headed" breed with a broad torso and fine hindquarters, although it underwent morphological changes due to the specialisation of breeders in breeding and raising the breed. The Charolais breed is characterised by a white or cream-coloured coat, a strong skeleton, a broad and muscular croup and a broad forehead with round and elongated horns.

According to tradition, some markets attract many French and European horse traders, such as the market of Moulins Engilbert, seduced by the quality of this meat breed

CHAROLAIS

© JEAN PIERRE DURIF

- 1 From Place du Champ de Foire, head towards Château-Chinon. Pass Place Boucaumont and the D 37 (les Promenades). Turn right into rue Coulon and then left into rue Champmartin. Continue up this road.
- 2 Take the path on the right up to the vineyards of Champmartin, then on the right (nice view of Moulins-Engilbert and Commagny). Go straight on to Soullins.
- 3 After the forest, turn left and follow this path, which climbs up to the road (very nice view of the Morvan).
- 4 Turn right on the road, which keeps going downhill, until you reach a small road at Les Mourceaux.
- 5 Take this road to the right for 100 m. Take the path on the right to the meadow. Go through the gate; Follow the fence. Continue to Les Ranviers and follow the road opposite to D18.
- 6 Cross opposite. Go straight on until you reach La Maladrerie. Take the D 295 to the right to the starting point

Commagny

© OT. BLM